

Ingeokring's 2014 Engineering-Geological Excursion to the Eifel

April 5th and 6th 2014

During this Ingeokring CPD activity you will learn about the:

- general geology of the Northern Eifel
- making of new geological maps (presentation by Liège University)
- interesting local system of large dams and their maintenance (presentation by the WVER, the authority responsible for the dams)

Furthermore you will learn:

- appreciating the use of geological maps in the field
- classifying sedimentary and metamorphic rocks

CPD-certificates will be issued

Programme:

Sat., 5th of April 2014, 12:00 – 18:00

Lectures and introduction into the geology of the area

Sun., 6th of April 2014, 9:00 – 16:00

Fieldwork

Location: The historic fortified site called: Burg Hausen in Hausen (52396 Heimbach).

This site - with a lecture room and hotel facilities - is located in the centre of our fieldwork area.

Cost: 50 euros per person for a personal geological map, lunch, coffee and pastry on day I and a lunch package on day II. Overnight stay, dinner and drinks are not included.

If you are interested in participating, send an e-mail to: secretaris@ingeokring.nl stating your name, address, and telephone number. The deadline is 15.02.2014.

The Ingeokring will provide you with addresses for an overnight stay in the fieldwork area.